Summary

I'm a versatile Full-Stack Software Engineer skilled in building end-to-end applications with React, Node.js, Python, and SQL/MongoDB and translating Figma/Sketch designs into pixel-perfect, responsive interfaces. Some projects include a Netflix UI clone, a Spotify clone, a Razorpay-integrated BuyMeACoffee platform, and a LangChain powered conversational chatbot. Passionate about elegant UX and intelligent systems, I thrive on tackling complex problems and delivering high-impact solutions and I'm excited to bring this blend of development, design, and AI/ML expertise to forward-thinking teams.
